Introduction

I have produced and continue to work on three papers based on my genealogy research. Each is is prepared in a private version and a public version. The latter lacks detailed information about living family members, except for name and photo where available.

The first “real” production is titled “West Point Connections - Pipers, Cozzens, Donnells, and Others.” This traces our revolutionary ancestors through the present day. This has been accepted by the Archivist at the Library of the United States Military Academy, and the Rhode Island Historical Society. And it is available online, in the “public version” at archive.org.

The second, “Pipers, Cozzens and Pennsylvania Connections”, focused on the pre-Revolutionary Piper family and East-coast relatives. This was of especial interest to the Bucks County Pennsylvania Historical society. This is also available online at archive.org.

This “Donnells, Langfords, Knipps, Hibbelers and their Connections” is Donnell-focused; an intentional step away from the first rambling collection that included many families of lesser interest to Donnell descendants. Copies have been provided to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, Texas

This paper builds on the work of Charles E Donnell, “A Genealogy of Donnell, Langford and Other Families”. He collaborated with Emma A and James Arthur Donnell who wrote “The Donnells and their Macdonald Ancestors, A History and Genealogy, 157 to 1927 A. D.” The focus is largely on those branches that made it to Texas, although many have scattered to other parts since then.

Charles E Donnell focused, especially, on the family of John Calvin Donnell whose two sons John William Donnell and Alfred Pierce Donnell married Langford sisters. I have expanded to the best available information but always welcome more hints or tips for future research.

More recently the Langford family has been expanded by a discovery by genetic testing of a 3rd cousin of mine. William Langford of Oklahoma City. We share a common G-G-grandfather William Thurman Langford. Will was genetically connected to a Langford descendant in Virginia. I have expanded the Langford branches to include him and to take the Langfords back to the origin of the colonies.

Uncle Charles Donnell's assertion of the family lore that brothers Asa and Jonathan Langford deserted the British Army was incorrect. First, there was no Asa. Before the American Revolution, several generations of Langfords shared Albemarle County, Virginia with the likes of Thomas Jefferson who was born there and built Monticello there. The city of Charlottesville is the county seat.

The Langford's were established in Virginia well before the Glencoe Massacre of the Mac Donalds. Although both the Donnells and Langfords passed through Tennessee, it does not appear there was a connection between the families until they reached Missouri.

This version also includes the descendants of Robert, the Second; the second Robert Donnell to arrive at the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina. They are not directly related that I could tell, but still interesting, with many descendants reaching into Texas. Another researcher, Carol J. (Cunningham) Roush has created a genealogy titled "Donnell – More Members of the Clan" that connects the John Marcellous Donnell branch into the Donnells of North Carolina. There is some disagreement as to where this branch should be connected. I have agreed with Carol Rousch as cited in her work.

Another researcher, Susan Murphy, has expanded her side of the family. She is a descendant of George Donnell (1793-1877), son of Major John Donnell (1748-1822), brother of our ancestor Captain William Donnell (1749-1822). I have expanded that part of the family to include pieces I had not already found. Of particular interest is the death of John's first wife Hannah Meek and John's arranged second marriage.

Most of the Donnells moved from North Carolina to Tennessee to Missouri as more or better land became available. There were so many Donnells in Lebanon, Tennessee (William, Thomas, and Robert) that nicknames were given to distinguish them: "…they had Captain Billy, Poplar Billy, Cedar Billy and Sugar Billy; Long Tommy, Short Tommy, Tiptoe Tommy, Big Robin, Little Robin, and Uncle Robin, with a number of Georges, Johns, James', Samuels, Calvins, Etc." (J. V. Drake, A Historical Sketch of Wilson County, Tennessee - From Its First Settlement to the Time)

This revision greatly expands the number of pictures, and clarifies and corrects some earlier entries. Because this is a publicly available version, some without death dates are marked "still living" though they may have passed. Corrections are welcome.

Generation One

1. Alexander MACDONALD (395) was born circa 1610 in Glencoe, Argyll, Scotland. He married Marcella Helena Archibald (3946), daughter of Thomas Archibald (3953) and Catherine Hay (3948). He was killed at the age of 82 with his wife in the Glencoe Massacre on 13 February 1692.[1]

His official name and title were Alasdair MacIain MacDonald (395), 12th Chief of the Glencoe MacDonald Clan.[2] If he was 80 when he was killed in the Glencoe Massacre, based on reports, then the often reported birthdate of 1630 makes little sense. According to Charles Donnell's account, Scotland was undergoing serious civil and religious strife. The rulers in Scotland had accepted the Roman Catholic faith and many Protestants had begun leaving for Ireland. Soon after, the Irish officially adopted the Catholic faith and the emigrants continued their move westward.

Members of the MacDonald clan who remained were targeted by King William and more than 30 were killed at Glencoe, either outright, or by being left to starve or freeze to death. The elder Alexander MacDonald and his wife were told they would be spared but were killed anyway. Charles' account attributes the massacre to Clan Campbell, but the issue was more complicated.

The MacDonalds and Campbells had competed for the same territory in Scotland for generations, the northwest coast of Scotland and the islands. Their feuds dated back to the 1400's. By the late 1600's, the power of the Campbells had increased, while the MacDonald's power had waned. In fact, Glencoe and the other regions occupied by the MacDonalds were largely surrounded by the Campbells who could make travel difficult if they wanted to.[3]

The Wikipedia page provides a detailed accounting. The MacDonalds had sworn allegiance to King James and, after the Jacobite rebellion had failed, had not sworn allegiance to King William and Queen Mary, for which the penalty was death. Robert Campbell of Glenlyon was the commander of a small force of which some of the soldiers were also Campbells. The total force sent against the MacDonalds was about 400.[1]

There is a different version on the wikitree genealogy site that is much more charitable to Campbell. At the wikitree site, there is a link to a documentary of the Massacre of Glencoe.

The following is extracted from the wikitree site:

> "Alexander, 12th Chief of Macdonald of Glencoe was late in taking his oath of allegiance to King William. As a result, it was decided to make an example out of the clan. A plan was hatched and on February 13, 1692. Alexander along with 37 other clan members were murdered by the Earl of Argyll's Regiment of Foot under the command of Captain Robert > Campbell of Glenlyon. ... He was to spare none below the age of seventy. The resulting massacre is remembered not just for its premeditated brutality but for its violation of an unwritten code of conduct: the perpetrators of the deed had enjoyed the hospitality of their victims for twelve days before turning on them. In 1688 the removal of James II and VII in favor of William of Orange had led to the first ever Jacobite uprising. Its leader, Viscount Dundee, died at the battle of Killiecrankie and the rebellion broke up. All that remained was to pacify the Highland chiefs who had joined the enterprise. To this end a proclamation was issued in August 1691 requiring clan chiefs to take the Oath of Allegiance to King William by Hogmanay that year. By the accident of reporting to the wrong official at the last possible moment, Clan MacDonald of Glencoe missed the vital deadline. Secretary of State James Dalymple, Master of Stair, was no friend to the MacDonalds. This was the excuse he had been waiting for. The order for the massacre went ahead. The chief, 33 other men, 2 women, and 2 children were killed. In defiance of his orders Robert Campbell spared the nearly one hundred women and children from slaughter and chose instead to drive them into the dark of a winter nights storm. Of which, all but a few were able to survive.[4]"

Yet another website, "Highland Titles" provides a very balanced description of the events leading up to the massacre.[5] My efforts on the Donnell genealogy builds on the work of Charles E Donnell, “A Genealogy of Donnell, Langford and Other Families”. He collaborated with Emma A and James Arthur Donnell who wrote “The Donnells and their Macdonald Ancestors, A History and Genealogy, 157 to 1927 A. D.”

I have recently discovered another source: "MacDonald McDonald Family Records," by J Montgomery Seaver that was published in 1929. This work identifies our Bryan McDonald as a Lieutenant Bryan McDonald, born in Ireland and a member of the army of King James II. This is certainly a possible ancestry branch. I stayed with our family version for several reasons:

> 1) The MacDonalds of Glencoe had not been doing particularly well and it is unlikely that Alexander MacIan MacDonald would have left his home turf and sired a son in Ireland.
> 2) In his will, Bryan MacDonald spelled his name both MacDonald and MacDonnell, but not McDonald. His will was signed with a mark, not an actual signature, which means his will may have been dictated to a family member or lawyer who was responsible for the spelling. It is unlikely that, even if Bryan spent a year or so in Ireland enroute to the colonies that he would have changed it to McDonald to fit in, then back to MacDonald in the colonies.[6]

Marcella Helena ARCHIBALD (3946) was born in 1625 in Keppoch, Isle of Skye, Scotland. She died on 13 February 1692 in Glencoe, Argyll, Scotland. She was known by her family and friends as Mary (3946).

The three known children of Alexander MacDonald (395) and Marcella Helena Archibald (3946) were as follows:

2 i. Bryan MACDONALD (394) was born on 11 November 1645 in Glencoe, Scotland. He married Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) in 1665 in Aklow, Leinster, Wicklow, Ireland. He died in February 1707 in New Castle, Delaware, USA, at age 61. His estate was probated on 19 March 1707 after the will was written on 23 February 1707. That would establish his death as late February or early March 1707.

ii. John MACDONALD (1782) was born circa 1657. He died circa 1714.

iii. Alexander MACDONALD (1783) was born in 1663. He died in 1707.

Generation Two

2. Bryan MACDONALD (394) was born on 11 November 1645 in Glencoe, Scotland (Other sources indicate a birthplace in Ireland, which is suspect).[7] He married Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) in 1665 in Aklow, Leinster, Wicklow, Ireland.[8] He died in February 1707 in New Castle, Delaware, USA, at age 61.[9] His estate was probated on 19 March 1707 after the will was written on 23 February 1707. That would establish his death as late February or early March 1707.[9]

He was also known as Brian (394).[10] He and Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) emigrated in 1686, after a brief stay (perhaps 2 years) in the north of Ireland, and settled, with their first three children, in Mill Creek Hundred, New Castle, Delaware, USA.[8] This land was initially part of Pennsylvania. From the source:

> Penn's New Castle Warrants records 200 acres to Bryan Mac Donald on Nov. 1, 1689. There was also record of a deed to him for "354 acres and 19 acres over' on Red Clay Creek, dated December 20, 1703. This shows that he was of the better class of immigrants and had money to buy land. Many settlers at this date had insufficient money to pay passage over and bound themselves for a certain length of time to the person who furnished the passage money.[8]

A will discovered by John A. Donnell indicated that Bryan spelled his name both MacDonnell and Mac Donald in the text of the will and signed it MacDonald. Occasionally the spelling adopted the Irish form of McDonald from their time in Ireland.

The variations from the original Mac Donald used by Bryan's descendants include MacDonnell, MacDonald, Donald (just dropped the Mac), Donnald, Donneld, and McDonald.[11]

Mary Jane Combs DOYLE (396) was born in 1647. She died in 1709.

The seven known children of Bryan MacDonald (394) and Mary Jane Combs Doyle (396) were as follows:

3 i. John MACDONNELL (397) was born in 1679 in Glencoe, Scotland. He died in 1755 in New Castle, Delaware, USA.

4 ii. William MCDONNELL (393) was born in 1681 in Glencoe, Scotland. He married Mary (?) (3573). He died in January 1730.

iii. James MACDONALD (398) was born in 1683 in Glencoe, Scotland. He died after 1751.

5 iv. Bryan MACDONALD II (514) was born in November 1686 in Mill Creek Hundred, New Castle, Delaware, USA. He married Catherine Robinson (3121), daughter of James Robinson (3122), in 1715 in Delaware, USA. He died in 1757 in Botetourt, Virginia, USA.

v. Mary MACDONALD (515) was born in 1689 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. She married (?) Danger (3120). She died after 1707.

vi. Richard MACDONALD (1760) was born in 1691 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. He died in 1730.

vii. Anabel MACDONALD (516) was born in 1693 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. She married Andrew Crossar (?) (4161) on 25 November 1751 in Wilmington, New Castle, Delaware, USA. She died on 11 April 1800 in Peters Township, Franklin, Pennsylvania, USA.

Generation Three

3. John MACDONNELL (397) was born in 1679 in Glencoe, Scotland. He died in 1755 in New Castle, Delaware, USA.[12]

John MacDonnell is the progenitor and primary interest of the authors of "The Donnell History" and "The Donnells - The Family in America.[12]" From the source:

> John, the eldest son of the immigrant, Bryan, called himself, "MacDonnell" and settled in Cumberland County, Pa., where he left four children, Thomas, James, John and Samuel. Of these, Thomas resided in Pennsylvania; James residence not known; and John and Samuel settled in South Carolina. It is from the Pennsylvania line that many of the name of Donnell in Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa trace their descent.[13]

He settled in Big Spring, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA, in 1735.[3] He was mistakenly identified as Thomas (397) in the book "The Donnell History" published in 1912.

Known children of John MacDonnell (397) all born New Castle, Delaware, USA include these four:

i. Samuel MACDONNELL (402) was born after 1690.

ii. James MACDONNELL (400) was born after 1690.

iii. John MACDONNELL (401) was born after 1690.

6 iv. Thomas MACDONNELL (399) was born circa 1715. He died in 1775.

4. William MCDONNELL (393) was born in 1681 in Glencoe, Scotland.[14] He married Mary (?) (3573). He died in January 1730.[15]

He settled in Cecil County, Maryland. William dropped the "Mac" and picked up the "Mc". His three sons dropped the "Mc" completely.

He moved to Cumberland County, then part of Lancaster County about 1743, then on to Guilford County, Carolina.

He bought 320 acres on North Buffalo in 1760 from Thomas Donnell and settled here.[16]

The three known children of William McDonnell (393) and Mary (?) (3573) were as follows:

7 i. Thomas DONNELL Sr (392) was born circa 1712 in Delaware, USA. There is a possibility that it may have been Ireland. He married Jane Latham (404) in 1743 in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, USA. He died in 1795 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was likely buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, but it is not confirmed.

8 ii. James DONNELL Sr (421) was born in 1725 in Ireland. He married Margaret Edminston (422), daughter of William Edminston (423). He died in 1796 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

9 iii. Robert DONNELL Sr (408) was born in 1728 in the North of Ireland. He married Mary (?) (403). He died in 1816.

5. Bryan MACDONALD II (514) was born in November 1686 in Mill Creek Hundred, New Castle, Delaware, USA.[17] He married Catherine Robinson (3121), daughter of James Robinson (3122), in 1715 in Delaware, USA.[17] He died in 1757 in Botetourt, Virginia, USA.[15]

He was also known as McDonald (514). He moved in 1745 to Botetourt, Virginia, USA.[17] Note: In this report, Bryan used the surname McDonald and the genealogy connects back to an Alexander McDonald of Ireland. See my prior note on Alexander MacDonald and the origins of the Bryan MacDonald line.

The nine known children of Bryan MacDonald II (514) and Catherine Robinson (3121) were as follows:

i. Richard MACDONALD (4150) was born in 1716.

ii. James MACDONALD (4151) was born in 1718.

iii. Edward MACDONALD (4152) was born in 1720. He died in 1760. Killed by Indians.

iv. Joseph MACDONALD (4153) was born in 1722. He married Elizabeth Ogle (4154).

v. Rebecca MACDONALD (4155) was born in 1724.

vi. Catharine MACDONALD (4156) was born in 1727.

vii. Mary MACDONALD (4157) was born on 19 January 1730. She married Tobias Smith (4158).

viii. Bryan MACDONALD Jr (4159) was born in 1732.

ix. Pricilla MACDONALD (4160) was born in 1734.

Generation Four

6. Thomas MACDONNELL (399) was born circa 1715 in New Castle, Delaware, USA. He died in 1775 in Big Spring, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[12]

He settled circa 1735 in Big Spring, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA.[18]

Known children of Thomas MacDonnell (399) include these six:

i. Moses DONNELL (3136).

ii. John DONNELL (3134).

iii. Thomas DONNELL (3135).

iv. Samuel DONNELL (3137).

v. Alexander DONNELL (3138).

10 vi. James DONNELL (1761) was born in 1739 in Hopewell, Cumberland, Pennsylvania, USA. He married Catherine Gibson (1762), daughter of Samuel Gibson (3124), in 1764. He died in 1784 in Kentucky, USA. He and Catherine Gibson (1762) were buried together in the Fall of 1784 at North Bank of the Licking River in Bourbon, Kentucky, USA.

7. Thomas DONNELL Sr (392) was born circa 1712 in Delaware, USA. There is a possibility that it may have been Ireland.[19] He married Jane Latham (404) in 1743 in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, USA. He died in 1795 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He was likely buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, but it is not confirmed.

In 1737, Thomas Donnell Sr (392) and Jane Latham (404) moved to Pennsylvania. From a genealogy by Susan Murphy, undated, titled "Donnell Family": Thomas and his brother Robert are on the tax rolls for > "...West Nottingham Township, Chester, Pennsylvania from 1747 to 1751. Included on these lists are many families associated with the Donnells in North Carolina, such as Kerr, Denny, Nelson, Maybn (Mebane), and Rankin.[20]"

From the source:

"In 1741 the neighborhood was visited by a minister named George Whitefield. Thousands of [parishioners] throughout the area heard his message, which was strongly influenced by the emotionalism of John Wesley. So powerful was his preaching that it aroused great dissension within the churches, many of them, including Nottingham, splitting into two separate congregations, referred to as the "Old Side" (conservatives) and the "New Side" (followers of Whitefield).

In about 1750 a group of members of the "Old Side" church at Nottingham formed a company to negotiate with the English Lord Granville, who owned vast tracts of land in Carolina. As a result, 21,120 acres along North Buffalo and Reedy Fork Creeks, in what would become Guilford County, North Carolina, were set aside for members of the Nottingham Company. About 1753 the first families arrived to take up their grants, going by way of the Great Wagon Road through Maryland and Virginia to the Carolina back country in covered wagons. At least seventeen families eventually arrived to settle on the Nottingham Company's grant.[21]"

From Rankin, to remind those of us who grew up in relative prosperity:

“Our ancestors were real pioneers. All this section between North Buffalo and Reedy Fork Creeks was heavily covered with oak, chestnut, hickory, and poplar timber and thick underbrush. Even as late as 1781, after the Guilford Court House battle. General Greene, in reporting that battle to Congress, says: "The greater part of this country is a wilderness, with a few cleared fields interspersed here and there."

Their first job was to clear the land and build their homes. Only a few acres could be cleared per year, and their first homes were the rudest log cabins. Their food must have been very plain and without any variety. They were having a hard time those first few years.

We have no local history describing their living conditions, but we have John Hill Martin's history which gives a minute description of the early living conditions of the first settlers in Pennsylvania. He relates that their homes were small one-room log cabins with one door and one small window and the window had no glass, just a wooden shutter. The cabins were covered with thatch or clapboards. The chimneys were usually built of sticks and mud. The floors were dirt. Their food, to a large extent, was the flesh of wild animals, and that without salt most of the time. Both men and women usually wore clothes and hats made from the skins of wild beasts. Their shoes were made from raw hides. Their furniture was hand made from rough materials. The coverings for their beds were usually the pelts of deer, beavers, bears, and wolves. No doubt this is a pretty good description of the living conditions of our ancestors for the first few years after they settled here in a wilderness. We do know their cabins were very crude and that the floors were dirt.

Wild animals were numerous, and they could secure their meat by killing buffaloes, bears, deer and squirrels. Wild fowls were plentiful, such as turkeys and quail; and also wild geese and wild pigeons in their season. Even as late as one hundred years ago the wild pigeons were still so numerous in their migration season that in passing over, they would at times hide the sun like a big cloud. The creeks were well stocked with fish. This would have been a veritable paradise for sportsmen, but our ancestors hunted and fished more for their food supply than for sport.

Their patches of wheat were cut with a small hand sickle, flailed from the straw, then separated from the chaff by pouring it from a platform on a windy day; and both wheat and corn were pounded into meal, or ground with a small hand mill, like our old coffee mills. With such crude methods of harvesting and handling wheat they could raise only small patches. Wheat bread was a rarity to be enjoyed only for breakfast on Sunday morning. Corn was the main crop and supplied bread for the family and feed for the stock.[22]

The Buffalo Presbyterian Church was located just north of the center of Greensboro, North Carolina and its location has been absorbed as the city expanded. Thomas was a ruling elder.[23] Thomas had a tavern, probably a stopping place for travelers, in his home in 1754. In 1756 Thomas was Captain of a company in the Rowan County regiment of militia. From 1756 until at least 1770, he was a Justice of the Peace.[24] In 1760, Thomas sold three hundred twenty acres of land to his brother James on the North Buffalo.[25] Rankin, in the History of the Buffalo Church, has a lengthy discussion of the Revolutionary War. In North Carolina, most of the fighting was between the English loyalists (Toreys) and the colonists who were Whigs. It was more like gang or clan warfare than organized militias. Participation of the Donnells, especially Thomas's sons was extensive. Most of his sons were in companies organized by Captain William Donnell or his brother Major John Donnell.

Rankin, discussing the Battle at Guilford Courthouse, wrote that the members of the Presbyterian congregations (Buffalo and Alamance) who were able bodied all fought for or in support of Major General Nathanael Greene. Many joined him later through the end of the war.[26]

Jane LATHAM (404) was born in 1718 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA.[27] She died in 1784 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[27] She was buried at the Alamance Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[27]

The 11 known children of Thomas Donnell Sr (392) and Jane Latham (404) were as follows:

i. James DONNELL (405) was born in 1744 in Pennsylvania, USA. It is assumed that the children born before the move to the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina were born in Pennsylvania. 11 ii. Hannah DONNELL (406) was born in 1746 in Pennsylvania, USA. She married Alexander McKnight (?) (2484). She married George Denny (446), son of James Denny Sr (449) and Mary Agnes Aldren (1887), on 23 February 1775 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. She died in 1803.

He died on 7 May 1822 in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA, at age 74. He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA. 15viii. George DONNELL Sr (411) was born on 4 July 1759 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA. He married Isabella Kerr (518), daughter of David Kerr (519) and Catherine (?) (4059), on 6 August 1784. He died in 1839 in Lebanon, Wilson, Tennessee, USA.

ix. Jane DONNELL (517) was born in 1761 in Rowan, North Carolina, USA. She married William Scott (3297) in 1791. She died in 1828. She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

xi. Alexander DONNELL (413) circa 1764. He died in 1773 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

8. James DONNELL Sr (421) was born in 1725 in Ireland.[28] He married Margaret Edminston (422), daughter of William Edminston (423). He died in 1796 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[29] He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[28]

He joined his brother Thomas in the Nottingham Colony in North Carolina in about 1760.

He was a farmer.[30]

Margaret EDMINSTON (422) was born in 1740.[31] She died after 1784 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[31] She was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.

The eight known children of James Donnell Sr (421) and Margaret Edminston (422) were as follows:

i. Jean DONNELL (4171).

He was a company commander in the Battle of Camden under the command of Colonel John Peasley, where he survived a defeat of the unit by Cornwallis. A George Donnell, possibly his younger brother, was listed as a known sergeant.[39]

From "The Donnells," citing an effort by Inez Hannaford:

> "During the Revolutionary War, there was an epidemic of smallpox in Guilford County. The British Army had brought it to the neighborhood. One of the Rankins, a young soldier who had been captured by the British, escaped and headed for home. By the time he got there, he was very sick, but the many relatives and friends who came to welcome him home did not recognize the disease until many had been exposed . It spread through the Buffalo Church congregation, and one of those who became infected was John's wife Hannah.
> Inez Hannaford writes, "When his first wife Hannah Meek was on her death bed with small pox, Elizabeth Denny, a very true friend who had just recovered from the same malady, came to care for her. Hannah told Elizabeth she was going to die and wanted her to take her place. She also told her husband that was her wish. About six months after her death, they were married.[40]"

From the source:

> "Major John lived on a 400 acre "plantation" on North Buffalo Creek, not far from the residence of his parents. He was a ruling elder in Buffalo Presbyterian Church.
>
> The Guilford County Court records show that in Nov 1781, he was appointed guardian of one Martha Thompson. In Feb 1783, he became guardian to Robert McKnight, orphan son of his brother-in-law Alexander McKnight.
>
> Like most well-off land owners in the South at that period, Major John owned slaves. The first census in 1790, in which he is shown living near his brothers Andrew and James, indicates that he had one slave at that time. It also shows eleven other people in his household, five male and six female, which corresponds with his known children by both marriages. The 1800 census shows three slaves, and the children only of the second marriage, the others having left home by then. The 1815 tax list shows that he owned 1086 acres of land, valued at $3250. When he wrote his will in 1822, he bequeathed four slaves, George, Alice, Charity, and Bill.
> His will, written less than two months before his death at the age of 74, provided for Elizabeth's support from the home farm, which he bequeathed to the youngest son Levi. The widow was also to have most of the livestock and household furniture, and a "Negro man named George". The married sons and oldest daughter Jane, having undoubtedly received their portions of the estate at the time their marriage, were left one dollar each. Daughters Hannah, Nancy, and Mary received $100 each. The unmarried daughters Betsy, Sarah, and Ruth received larger bequests, including cash, land, and slaves, and son Levi got the plantation, with of course the obligation to support his mother.[41]"

There is a plaque memorializing him at Alamance Presbyterian Church Cemetery, but his actual burial location is the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery.[42]

He was also known as Calvin (69). Charles Donnell spends some effort discussing the background for those who came from North Carolina and through Tennessee "…the colony as a whole, was torn all to pieces by the Civil War. The Donnells and Davises and Morrisons could no more help going into the Confederate cause than they could have been some other religious belief or been called by some other name. It was the way they were bred and raised. It was part of their being. They were honest, believed in freedom, which included State Rights, and there was nothing left for them to do but go with the Confederacy."

The State of Missouri provided extraordinary inducements for settlers including large tracts of land.[71,88] Davidson, with his brother William W (2600), built the first steam mill in Hickory County on the head of Turkey Creek just north of Cross Timbers, Hickory, Missouri, USA.[87] He became a prosperous farmer and planter there, owning slaves, and at the time of the Civil war he and three of his sons enlisted in the Confederate Army.[89] He and Alfred Portervine Donnell (2602) served together in Company D of the 11th Missouri Infantry during the Civil War. Many of the Donnells served in the Confederate Army under Colonel Sterling Price. This included James Davidson Donnell, his sons, his step-soon Robert Foster, and his brother William W. (2600)

Most of what they gained in Missouri was lost because of the Civil War.[87] In 1865, James Davidson Donnell (2598) moved to Hunt, Texas, USA. Davidson with his sons Bill and Tom built another mill, which they sold. They moved to Young County, Texas in May of 1876 where they built another mill on the Clear Fork of the Brazos.

38. Lemuel Amzi DONNELL (73) was born on 6 March 1839 in Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[101] He was baptized on 2 May 1839 in Spring Creek Church, Wilson, Tennessee, USA. He married Eliza Ann Cunningham (1535), daughter of James Cunningham (2391) and Mary Jane Eubank (2392), on 6 March 1867 in Washington, Arkansas, USA. He died on 2 February 1911 in Seymour, Baylor, Texas, USA, at age 71. He was buried at the Masonic Cemetery in Seymour, Baylor, Texas, USA.[105]

He moved with his family to Hickory County, Missouri at the age of two. He attended the North Prairie Academy in their colony.[101]

Lemuel Amzi Donnell enlisted on August 20, 1861, in the Missouri State Guard at the age of 22. Donnell was elected 1st Lieutenant upon enlisting in Company F, Hale's Battalion, Raines' Brigade, Price's Division as a recognition of his potential leadership. He served in the Missouri State Guard from 20 August 1861 to 21 June 1865 responsible for moving supplies of food and ammunition.

He later re-enlisted in Company H, 6th Infantry Regiment, 8th Division, Missouri State Guard. After re-enlisting in Company H, Donnell's unit fought in the Battle of Pea Ridge (March 7–8, 1862). This Confederate defeat in Arkansas was a turning point in Missouri's control. After the Battle of Pea Ridge and the reorganization of Confederate forces, he joined the 11th Missouri Infantry, a Confederate regiment. Donnell marched with the 11th Missouri Infantry in Louisiana in the Red River Campaign (March–May 1864). Donnell's diary ends in August 1864 with the 11th Missouri Infantry receiving marching orders, assumed to mean dismissal.

Donnell suffered severe illness rather than wounds. In June 1863, he wrote, he was "so reduced in flesh I can scarcely walk," recovering in the Arkansas countryside with a vegetable diet until June 28. During the Battle of Helena (July 4, 1863), he was near the battle, but ill and recovering in the countryside, rejoining his unit on July 5 after the Confederate loss.[106] Donnell captured his cousin Sam Reynolds and buried his brother Alexander in Memphis's Elmwood Cemetery on May 24, 1862.

In February 1864, Donnell joined this secret order of Southern sympathizers, Knights of the Golden Circle, noting discussions about recognizing each other in battle. This reflects his commitment to the Confederate cause beyond the battlefield.

Toward the end of his diary, Donnell wrote an acrostic poem about camp life, spelling out his name with the first letter of each line. He concluded, “Let all who read these lines of mine E’er think there’s truth in every line… Let the first letter of each line be combined And in the word my name you shall find.” This creative outlet reveals a reflective side amid the war’s hardships.[106]

After the war was over, he settled in Washington County Arkansas, where he taught school. He moved to Texas in 1875, first stopping in St. Jo; after a year or two he moved to Palo Pinto County. The in the Spring of 1879, he started to Colorado.[101] According a published description:

> "... during the civil war, Lemuel walked from Gainesville to Texarkana, Texas, thus he was well aware of the rich fertile Texas soil, and after the war's end he and Eliza loaded all their belongings into 2 covered wagons and headed south to the great state of Texas. After traveling approximately 10 days, Lemuel and his family camped and rested alongside the red river near the Paris township in Lamar County, Texas and from there they turned westward and traveled along a dirt trail which later became US highway 82. After several additional days, Lemuel and Eliza arrived in the small town of St. Jo in Palo Pinto County, Texas and after arriving there they found the citizens to be honest, sincere, and extremely hospitable. Because of the warm reception afforded them by the citizens of St. Jo, Lemuel and Eliza then remained there for approximately one year.
>
> Lemuel's education qualified him to be a schoolteacher and while residing in St. Jo, Texas, he taught and assisted in the work of the Presbyterian church. It is unknown how long Lemuel and Eliza resided in St. Jo, however, after residing there for approximately one year, they then moved further west in Palo Pinto County, Texas and there, resided until sometime in 1879.
> Prior to 1879, Lemuel and Eliza intended to head westward to the state of Colorado, and after residing in Palo Pinto country for approximately one year they again packed their belongings into 2 covered wagons and headed westward toward the mile high state. During their journey to Colorado, Lemuel and Eliza's wagons were pulled by their prized Clydesdale horses, and during this journey they also took with them 10 cows with heifer calves. While residing in Palo Pinto county, one of Lemuel and Eliza's mares gave birth to twin colts and prior to their departure, Lemuel tied the 2 horse colts named "Jim" and "Bob" to the rear of the covered wagons, and he and Eliza Ann then headed westward to the state of Colorado.[107]"

His journey to Colorado stopped in Seymour, Texas. He built the first stone house, taught the first school in his basement, and was the superintendent of the first Sunday school. He was also the first Justice of the Peace and later a county commissioner.[101] In the 1900 Census, he listed his occupation, tongue-in-cheek, as a boardinghouse keeper. In addition to his wife, his daughter, her husband and three grandchildren lived with him. Lemuel Amzi took some humorous liberty as the census "enumerator.[108]"

61. Lemuel Alexander DONNELL (3895) was born on 28 November 1879 in Warsaw, Benton, Missouri, USA.[121] He married Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896), daughter of Heinrich Knipp (108) and Katherine Hibbeler (282), on 2 May 1911 at Hotel Tulia in Tulia, Swisher, Texas, USA (by the Reverend John R. Sharp, the Presbyterian minister in Tulia).[164] He died on 29 October 1968 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 88 two weeks after having a stroke.[165] He was buried on 31 October 1968 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[165]

He was known by his family and friends as Pop (3895).

In September 1891, Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) moved to Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA, with his parents, brothers and sisters from Seymour. From "Pop" Donnell's recollections in the Canyon News:

> During the summer of 1891, the Donnells made a prospecting trip to the plains.
>
> "That summer had had lots of rain and was a beautiful country. The lakes were full of water and grass was half knee-high. Pa came home with his mind made up to move. In September we arrived in Silverton." Donnell remembers.
>
> "Dad had at that time one wagon, one hack, five just common work stock, two colts, cows and calves. Coming by way of Matador, we pulled up the Caprock east of old Della Plains."
>
> When the Donnell family arrived in Silverton, "Dad ate his lunch, and said he was going into town, then just one store. The town was already plotted out, however. Returning to the wagon, he said, 'I've got us a place."
>
> "The property was located 3-4 miles northwest of where we were camped then."...
> "When we arrived at the property, we found a dugout, 10x12, two stacks of hay, and new wire fence."
>
> "We put everything we could in the dugout, using it for a kitchen, dining room and parlor."
>
> "The wagon was bedroom number one, while the hack, with 1x12 boards added to it, made bedroom number two for the boys."
> "We wintered just fine, but I remembered there were a few nights when it would be stormy, very dark and snowing, with the wind from the north. We would hold to each other's hands to keep from getting separated going from the dugout to the hay stack," Donnell says.

> "We had to have food, fuel, and some kind of social activity. To get a sack of flour, we had to go to Amarillo, a six-day trip. We would leave Monday morning and get back Saturday after noon.[166]"

He and Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) arrived in December 1924 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, on a cold and snowy day from Silverton in an open cab Ford truck. Keith, the oldest daughter, wrote a family history article called "Donnell's and Bauer's" that was published in "Windmilling". She elaborates further

> "Uncle Charlie, being the oldest, went to Swisher Co. and got 2 sections of land. When they became of age, Sam and Daddy got a section each, working as partners.
> Then tragedy struck, Uncle Sam stepped on a nail while they were working on a windmill, and in 8 days he was dead. This was a sorrow my father always carried with him. This was July 1906. Daddy carried on for a few years with hired help, then went back to Silverton to work in the Bank where he had worked at one time.[164]"

He was a cowboy. I recall family discussions that he may have worked for Charles Goodnight or his partners (likely the JA Ranch), who ran 100,000 head cattle on 1,325,000 acres in the Texas Panhandle and included the Palo Duro Canyon. See for example: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Charles_Goodnight

"Pop" was also engaged in farming, but was primarily a cattleman, specializing in breeding, raising, and selling registered polled Hereford cattle.[123]

My recollections:

> Mother and Pop Donnell were hard working ranchers. I think I spent a few weeks every summer at their place west of Canyon. Then there were nearly daily excursions into town for shopping or to go to a Saturday movie matinee. The movie theater was the only air conditioning unless we stopped to visit Aunt Kate. Trips to town always had the benefit of a soda pop or ice cream cone. And there was the occasional drive-in movie.
>
> Not much to do for a kid, except to accompany Pop on his daily trip to count cows. The fun part of that was the challenge of jumping out of a rolling car to run ahead and open the barbwire gate, then jumping back in on the other side. He counted his cows every trip just to be sure none were missing.
> Pop was pretty quiet but loved his Friday night "wrassling" on TV. He, being a real cowboy, was a very good harmonica player. And told stories about places he never wanted to go again: getting cattle out of the quicksand on the Canadian River or escaping a flash flood in the Palo Duro Canyon.

Mother Donnell was very involved with the Presbyterian Church. She had an upright piano that we kids would bang on but it only got played if Aunt Kate came over.

Henrietta Donnell, 1911

Henrietta Marion KNIPP (3896) was born on 17 December 1888 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. She died on 31 March 1965 at LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 2 April 1965 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[167]

In 1908, Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) moved to Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA. From Keith's article:

> "She came to Silverton to teach school about the time that Daddy came back to work there. She had taught in schools closer to her home but was lured to the Plains by her sister, Kathryn Knipp, who taught near the Vigo community. I believe they came by rail to Estelline, but I know they rode the stagecoach from that point to Silverton. My father found the young woman he wanted for a wife when he met Henrietta. ...My mother thought she was marrying a banker, but the love of the land was in my father's blood. When I was in my third year, they moved back to Daddy's improved section in Swisher County.[164]"

Beginning in 1924, Henrietta Marion Knipp was the teacher in a one-room school in Canyon, Texas

She was the President of the Parent Teacher Association, the West Side Home Demonstration Club and the Canyon Women's Book Club. She was very active in the Presbyterian church, serving in the choir and teaching Sunday School.

She had a stroke 1 November 1956 at the age of 67. From Keith's article:

> "Tragedy came to our family when Mother suffered a major stroke in November 1956. She lay paralyzed and speechless for more than 8 years. During that sad time we saw in Mother a courage and strength which sustained us all. Her mind remained alert, she was always cheerful; and though we shed many tears together and separately, she was an inspiration to all who came in contact with her.

Mother's illness took a terrible toll on Daddy who was 9 years her senior. Those were such sad and lonely years for him.[164]"

Sharp.[164] She died on 3 July 1980 in Manhattan, Kansas, USA, at age 67 of cancer.[123] She was buried at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.

From Keith's article:

> "We were in the Alexander School district, but we regularly attended Sunday School and Church at Rock Creek.
>
> Because of the flu epidemic I was not allowed to start to school in 1918. I can remember Uncle Charlie, who was by this time a well qualified medical doctor, bringing the mail and other necessities and putting them out at the gate. My parents conversed with him at a distance, and we escaped the flu that year. The next year we all had the flu. I remember how sick we all were, but we all lived.
>
> I started to school in 1919 at Alexander in the second grade. I had no problems in missing the first grade, for my mother had seen to it that I was well taught.
>
> In 1921 my mother was hired to teach the Alexander School.
> In December 1924 our parents moved to Canyon where we children might be able to get an education. With that move my happy and innocent childhood ended. I was thrust into a completely new and different world. I graduated from Canyon High School in 1929 and immediately started to > college. I had been editor of the high school paper the last two years, and my love was languages and journalism. Knowing there was not going to be any way I could finance 4 years of college in those depression years, I was advised to major in primary education and get a permanent certificate to teach school. In 1931 I went to the Johnson School in the Bauer community to teach....

> When I came there to teach, he [Clarence (39)] lost no time in getting to know the new teacher, and we were soon dating. We were married in my parents' home on November 11, 1932 by the Reverend John R. Sharp, the same minister who had married my parents."

The college at the time was West Texas State Teachers College. (Note: The name started as West Texas Normal College in 1909, was changed to West Texas State Teachers College (1923–1949), West Texas State College (1949–1963), West Texas State University (1963–1990), and in 1990 to West Texas A&M, part of the Texas A&M University System.).[164] From Keith's article

> For the next 8 years we lived on a section of land belonging to Grandpa Bauer....
> We were looking for land where we could irrigate and have a home of our own. Our search brought us to Swisher County. We purchased land, did extensive work on the house, and moved on November 2, 1940....Those were such happy years for us marred only by the sadness of World War II. There are no happier years than those when your children are growing up and lifelong friendships are formed. In 1947 we moved into our first new home....We sold the farm to D. S. Burelsmith in 1955 and moved into Tulia where we built another new home.
>
> The day after [Vance's] graduation we came to Bentonville, Arkansas and bought the property... It may never again be my privilege to live in Texas. Arkansas has been good to us, we love it here. I was born a Texan, and I will die a Texan! My heart remains in Swisher Co., for there I spent the happiest years of my life.[164]

> On D-Day, June 6, 1944 during Mission Detroit, Mission #28 his CG4 Waco-type glider ... departed Ramsbury, United Kingdom, being towed by C47-A flown by pilots Lt Myers and Lt Frederick.
> His co-pilot was Flight Officer Leslie A. Reynolds also of the 84th Troop Carrier Squadron. The passengers were Sgt. Raynor M. Wilson and Pvt. Lecil A Drummond, both of the 80th Anti-aircraft Battalion.
>
> Their mission was to transport a jeep, anti-tank ammunition, and other equipment to Ste-Mère-Eglise, about 5 miles inland from Utah Beach.
>
> In an investigation (Missing Air Crew Report #10890), the tow pilots believed Carey Brewster's glider was either "...released or shot off about 16 miles from the landing zone. This meant that the glider landed in enemy territory with few, if any, friendly troops in the vicinity."
>

Descendants of Harry Langford (3648)

Generation One

160. Harry LANGFORD (3648) was born on 12 June 1563 in Elstead, Surrey, England.[240] He married Elizabeth Dawes (3649) on 15 October 1592 in Abbots Ann, Hampshire, England.[240] He died in 1600 in Surrey, England.[240]

Most recently the Langford family has been expanded by a discovery by genetic testing of a 3rd cousin of mine. William Langford of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. We share a common G-G-grandfather William Thurman Langford. He was genetically connected to a Langford descendant in Virginia. I have expanded the Langford branches to include him and to take the Langfords back to the emigration of Edward Langford to the colonies.

Uncle Charles Donnell's assertion of the family lore that brothers Asa and Jonathan Langford deserted the British Army was incorrect. First, there was no Asa.

Several generations of Langfords shared Albemarle County, Virginia with the likes of Thomas Jefferson who was born there and built Monticello there. The city of Charlottesville is the county seat.

The only known child of Harry Langford (3648) and Elizabeth Dawes (3649) was:

Descendants of Johannes Henrich Knipp (3043)

Generation One

208. Johannes Henrich KNIPP (3043) married Anna Margaretha Graef (3044).

The Knipps were a large family in Germany. The first known immigrant was Heinrich Knipp (108). Based on letters, he considered himself a disappointment to his father. He may have deserted the Prussian Army after striking an officer.

With the help of my mother, who kept everything, and Mary Katrina (Knipp) Robbins (35), who was aware that her father's letters home were intact and had them translated, much of the Knipp family has been reconstructed.

At different times Donnells have visited with Tante Maria Knipp (3057) in Netphen, Germany.

The two known children of Johannes Henrich Knipp (3043) and Anna Margaretha Graef (3044) were as follows:

i. Friedrich KNIPP (3592) married Marie Catherine Panthoefer (3593) on 5 January 1845 in Roedgen, Westfalen, Prussia, Germany.

209 ii. Johann Henrich KNIPP (1825) was born on 13 January 1809 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia, Germany. He married Maria Katherine Daub (1826), daughter of Johannes Daub (3591) and Anne Katherine Jung (3590), on 16 March 1834 in Roedgen, Germany. He married Henrietta Koelsch (3058) in 1847 in Roedgen, Obersdorf, Siegen, Westfalen, Preussen, Germany. He died on 9 January 1881 in Germany at age 71.

Generation Two

209. Johann Henrich KNIPP (1825) was born on 13 January 1809 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia, Germany. He married Maria Katherine Daub (1826), daughter of Johannes Daub (3591) and Anne Katherine Jung (3590), on 16 March 1834 in Roedgen, Germany.[283] He married Henrietta Koelsch (3058) in 1847 in Roedgen, Obersdorf, Siegen, Westfalen, Preussen, Germany.[284] He died on 9 January 1881 in Germany at age 71.[283,285]

Heinrich Knipp is the father of Heinrich (Henry) Knipp, the progenitor of the Texas Knipps below. Henry is, apparently, the only one of this family who emigrated, and did so under apparently strained circumstances, as he asks his brother Jacob to apologize to his father for him.[283] In a letter to the family of Henry Knipp (108), b 1842, from his godson and nephew Adolph Heinrich Knipp, dated 14 December 1904, Adolph Heinrich discusses the living descendants of Heinrich (1825) of a second marriage. These include (Anglicized in the translation) William, Adolfine, Gustav, August, and Robert. In a later letter, Adolf Heinrich stated that Johann and Henrietta had eight children all of whom were dead by 1950. There is one missing.

The five known children of Johann Henrich Knipp (1825) and Maria Katherine Daub (1826) were as follows:

i. Friederich Rudolph KNIPP (1832).

He married Amelia Meyer (1377) on 1 March 1875 in Milam, Texas, USA.[287] He married Katherine Hibbeler (282), daughter of William Henry Hibbeler (1834) and Sophia (?) (3512), in May 1884 in Milam, Texas, USA.[288] He died on 28 October 1904 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 62.[289] He was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[290]

He was also known as Henry (108). He emigrated in 1868 to New York City, New York, USA, on the steamer Bavaria that departed Germany on 2 May 1868.

According to Knipp family lore, he had been in the Prussian Army, struck an officer and needed to leave the country.[283,291] From Louise Robbins Davis' letter:

> A Lutheran pastor was securing passage for a group of immigrants who wished to come to America, and Henry Knipp, whose family was financially able to provide funds for his passage, persuaded his parents to let him join the group. As he suffered at times intensely from the after effects of a shoulder wound inflicted during the Franco-Prussian War, his parents decided that perhaps a change to a milder climate might prove beneficial. So Henry Knipp, whose German relatives and ancestors were made up largely of school teachers and doctors, began his long journey to a pioneer country where teachers and doctors were scarce indeed, but whose descendants were to labor in professions of law, engineering, and teaching for more than half a century.

He arrived in Cameron, Texas in 1869, by way of Chicago where he fished the Great Lakes. He joined a group of men making their way down the Mississippi to New Orleans.

He moved to Rockdale after March 1875, then to Round Rock, Texas where he lost his house to a fire on 7 May 1877.[283,288] Louise Robbins Davis wrote that after his first wife Amelia died very young:

> Through the kindness of neighbors and the help of a housekeeper Henry kept his family together for a year and then he met Kathryn Hibbler, whose family had migrated to America the year before...Kathryn was only seventeen years of age at the time of her marriage to Henry.
>
>
> By training, Henry studied woodcraft... These were early days in Texas, and the only mode of transportation was by heavy wagon train. Only the hardest oak and toughest hickory could take the punishment inflicted by heavy loads on rough, roadless treks across the country.
> In those days, horse-shoeing and other blacksmith work were equal in importance to the making of wagon wheels and wagon beds, and the first shop of its kind operated in Cameron was that of Knipp and Meyers. (Lou Meyers being a cousin of Amelia.) ...

He had been a carpenter, cabinet maker, wagon maker and worked on the railroad line to Mexico, at times returning infrequently to his family.[288] Also lore: At one point during the marriage of he and Katherine Hibbeler (282), he raised his hand to beat her, and she reached behind her and picked up the poker. On his deathbed, he is supposed to have said, "Whatever you do, don't let her hit me with the poker".[291]

Amelia MEYER (1377) was born circa 1855 in West Prussia, Germany. She died on 30 March 1883 in Cameron, Texas, USA, of tuberculosis. She was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[290]

216 iii. Otto Powell KNIPP (1380) was born on 25 November 1879 in Round Rock, Williamson, Texas, USA. He married Evangeline Esther (Eva) Schrap (1823), daughter of C. F. (Christian) Schrap (2230) and Helen C Schuster (2231), on 21 July 1917 in Dodge Center, Minnesota, USA. He died on 4 July 1965 in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA, at age 85. He was buried at the Raymondville Memorial Cemetery in Raymondville, Willacy, Texas, USA.

Katrina Knipp, c 1896

Katherine HIBBELER (282) was born on 1 September 1866 in Oldenburg, Germany.[288] Several years after her husband passed, she married Peter J Leavson (1836) in Texas, USA.[292] She died on 16 December 1937 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 71.[289] She was buried at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[293] She spelled her name in a variety of ways: "Katie, Katrina, Katheryn, Catherine (282)" In one her first letters that she wrote home on behalf of Henry, she spelled it Katharina.[292,283] She emigrated in 1878 from Northern Germany with her parents arriving in Galveston, Texas then moving on to Brenham, Texas.[294] After her mother's death and when Katrina was about 16, the family moved to Cameron, Texas where they could all find work.

> "Her father and brother worked in a farm or in the blacksmith shop. Her little sister, Annie, went to work for Dr. and Mrs. Powell where she worked, but lived like a daughter, until she married and moved away. Katrina worked for a while in the Hefley home, but she soon went to work in the home of Henry Knipp, a forty-three-year-old widower with three small children. Two years later, Henry and Katrina married and had five children of their own.[294]"

She appeared on the census of 1910 at 100 Buckhalts Road in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. Living with her were children Otto, Henrietta, Earnest, and Fred; her father Henry Hebler; Matilda Myer; and Gordon Lankford. Spelling in census forms is usually poor, so Matilda may be a niece of Henry's first wife.[295]

iii. Paul KNIPP (3056) was born on 10 May 1897. He ate poison mushrooms and died.

iv. Maria KNIPP (3057) was born on 23 April 1900 in Netphen, Germany. She died on 14 December 1984 at Am Kirchrein 2 in Netphen, Germany, at age 84.

213. Adolf Heinrich KNIPP (3048) was born on 5 February 1866.

Adolf is the author of the letter in 1949 to his cousin Katherine describing the family that stayed behind in Germany.

This is the primary source for determining the children of Johann Heinrich (1825) and his two wives. The family was apparently not in touch after Henry Knipp died in 1904 until 1949 after two world wars. He discusses the family through the wars:

> You enquired how we fared during the war. I was [over the age limit] in the first World War so I didn't have to go. ...My brother Wilhelm had three sons. Two were at the University in Marburg and one in high school. Two were killed right at the beginning in France; the third, an officer, was wounded and was a prisoner of war in France for two years. After he came home he continued with his studies and is now an M.D. in a large city in our community.
>
> Two of my sons died a few years before the Second World War: one at the age of 4, the other 17 years old. My only living son Walter was in it from the beginning. He died in 1946, a war casualty. So now I only have my married daughter, Berta, who lives in this vicinity.
>
> The only son of my sister Emilie was a flier in the war. He crashed and injured his lungs. He spent two years in the hospital. He is well again and is now City Manager in a small town near Siegen. His mother (my sister) died in 1943. A year later her house was completely ruined by a bomb... Fate has been pretty hard on us.
>
> We live in the province Westfalen. At first we had American occupational forces but now we have English...As you have probably read in your newspapers, everything is rationed. It is not as bad for us in the country as it is for those in large cities. At least we have potatoes and bread. A farmer gets three zentner (one zentner equals about 220 pounds, I believe) potatoes per person per year as against one or two zentner per person for people living in the city. If we did not have America and Canada's help we certainly would starve.[285]
> Russia has taken possession of about one-third of Germany and has driven the people from the eastern provinces into western Rheinland and Westfalen. We are, therefore so very crowded. We had to take a farmer and his family into our home. They did not have a thing; only the clothes they had on their bodies. The harvest of peas and beans was very small because of the extreme drought. Such small amounts of coffee, rice and tobacco that are being sent in to Germany all go to the black market and we are not able to buy them.

She taught school in Cameron for many years, was a life member of the Texas State Teachers Association, and the Milam County Superintendent of Schools for ten years.

Henrietta Donnell, 1911

219. Henrietta Marion KNIPP (3896) was born on 17 December 1888 in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. She married Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895), son of Alfred Pierce Donnell (30) and Elizabeth Frances Langford (66), on 2 May 1911 at Hotel Tulia in Tulia, Swisher, Texas, USA (by the Reverend John R. Sharp, the Presbyterian minister in Tulia).[164] She died on 31 March 1965 at LaCasa Canyon Convalescent Home in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 76. She was buried on 2 April 1965 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[167]

In 1908, Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896) moved to Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA. From Keith's article:

> "She came to Silverton to teach school about the time that Daddy came back to work there. She had taught in schools closer to her home but was lured to the Plains by her sister, Kathryn Knipp, who taught near the Vigo community. I believe they came by rail to Estelline, but I know they rode the stagecoach from that point to Silverton. My father found the young woman he wanted for a wife when he met Henrietta. ...My mother thought she was marrying a banker, but the love of the land was in my father's blood. When I was in my third year, they moved back to Daddy's improved section in Swisher County.[164]"

She and Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) arrived in December 1924 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, on a cold and snowy day from Silverton in an open cab Ford truck. Beginning in 1924, Henrietta Marion Knipp was the teacher in a one-room school in Canyon, Texas

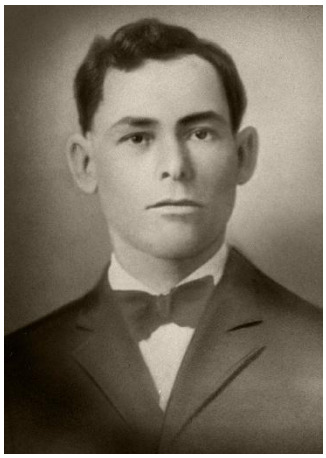
She was the President of the Parent Teacher Association, the West Side Home Demonstration Club and the Canyon Women's Book Club. She was very active in the Presbyterian church, serving in the choir and teaching Sunday School.

She had a stroke 1 November 1956 at the age of 67. From Keith's article:

> "Tragedy came to our family when Mother suffered a major stroke in November 1956. She lay paralyzed and speechless for more than 8 years. During that sad time we saw in Mother a courage and strength which sustained us all. Her mind remained alert, she was always cheerful; and though we shed many tears together and separately, she was an inspiration to all who came in contact with her.
>
> Mother's illness took a terrible toll on Daddy who was 9 years her senior. Those were such sad and lonely years for him.[164]"



Lemuel Alexander Donnell, 1911

Lemuel Alexander DONNELL (3895) was born on 28 November 1879 in Warsaw, Benton, Missouri, USA.[121] He died on 29 October 1968 in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA, at age 88 two weeks after having a stroke.[165] He was buried on 31 October 1968 at the Dreamland Cemetery in Canyon, Randall, Texas, USA.[165] He was known by his family and friends as Pop (3895).

In September 1891, Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) moved to Silverton, Briscoe, Texas, USA, with his parents, brothers and sisters from Seymour.

From "Pop" Donnell's recollections in the Canyon News:

> During the summer of 1891, the Donnells made a prospecting trip to the plains.
> "That summer had had lots of rain and was a beautiful country. The lakes were full of water and grass was half knee-high. Pa came home with his mind made up to move. In September we arrived in Silverton." Donnell remembers.

"Dad had at that time one wagon, one hack, five just common work stock, two colts, cows and calves. Coming by way of Matador, we pulled up the Caprock east of old Della Plains."

When the Donnell family arrived in Silverton, "Dad ate his lunch, and said he was going into town, then just one store. The town was already plotted out, however. Returning to the wagon, he said, 'I've got us a place."

"The property was located 3-4 miles northwest of where we were camped then."...

"When we arrived at the property, we found a dugout, 10x12, two stacks of hay, and new wire fence."

"We put everything we could in the dugout, using it for a kitchen, dining room and parlor."

"The wagon was bedroom number one, while the hack, with 1x12 boards added to it, made bedroom number two for the boys."

"We wintered just fine, but I remembered there were a few nights when it would be stormy, very dark and snowing, with the wind from the north. We would hold to each other's hands to keep from getting separated going from the dugout to the hay stack," Donnell says.

"We had to have food, fuel, and some kind of social activity. To get a sack of flour, we had to go to Amarillo, a six-day trip. We would leave Monday morning and get back Saturday after noon.[166]"

Keith, the oldest daughter, wrote a family history article called "Donnell's and Bauer's" that was published in "Windmilling". She elaborates further

"Uncle Charlie, being the oldest, went to Swisher Co. and got 2 sections of land. When they became of age, Sam and Daddy got a section each, working as partners.

Then tragedy struck, Uncle Sam stepped on a nail while they were working on a windmill, and in 8 days he was dead. This was a sorrow my father always carried with him. This was July 1906. Daddy carried on for a few years with hired help, then went back to Silverton to work in the Bank where he had worked at one time.[164]"

He was a cowboy. I recall family discussions that he may have worked for Charles Goodnight or his partners (likely the JA Ranch), who ran 100,000 head cattle on 1,325,000 acres in the Texas Panhandle and included the Palo Duro Canyon. See for example: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Charles_Goodnight

"Pop" was also engaged in farming, but was primarily a cattleman, specializing in breeding, raising, and selling registered polled Hereford cattle.[123]

My recollections:

> Mother and Pop Donnell were hard working ranchers. I think I spent a few weeks every summer at their place west of Canyon. Then there were nearly daily excursions into town for shopping or to go to a Saturday movie matinee. The movie theater was the only air conditioning unless we stopped to visit Aunt Kate. Trips to town always had the benefit of a soda pop or ice cream cone. And there was the occasional drive-in movie.
>
> Not much to do for a kid, except to accompany Pop on his daily trip to count cows. The fun part of that was the challenge of jumping out of a rolling car to run ahead and open the barbwire gate, then jumping back in on the other side. He counted his cows every trip just to be sure none were missing.
>
> Pop was pretty quiet but loved his Friday night "wrassling" on TV. He, being a real cowboy, was a very good harmonica player. And told stories about places he never wanted to go again: getting cattle out of the quicksand on the Canadian River or escaping a flash flood in the Palo Duro Canyon.
> Mother Donnell was very involved with the Presbyterian Church. She had an upright piano that we kids would bang on but it only got played if Aunt Kate came over.

Very little was known about the cause and cure of malaria at that time. However she lasted less than a year in her new home. One day, Katerina, her brother and her father were working in the field when the little sister called frantically from the back door. Sensing tragedy, Katrina leaped two rows at a time back to the house. Her mother was dead! Lying on the kitchen floor! The baby crawling about her crying and wimpering!.[294]"

She married Heinrich Knipp (108), son of Johann Henrich Knipp (1825) and Maria Katherine Daub (1826), in May 1884 in Milam, Texas, USA. She was buried at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.

Katrina Knipp, c 1896

240. Katherine HIBBELER (282) was born on 1 September 1866 in Oldenburg, Germany.[288] She married Heinrich Knipp (108), son of Johann Henrich Knipp (1825) and Maria Katherine Daub (1826), in May 1884 in Milam, Texas, USA.[288] Several years after her husband passed, she married Peter J Leavson (1836) in Texas, USA.[292] She died on 16 December 1937 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 71.[289] She was buried at the Oak Hill Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[293]

She spelled her name in a variety of ways: "Katie, Katrina, Katheryn, Catherine (282)" In one her first letters that she wrote home on behalf of Henry, she spelled it Katharina.[292,283] She emigrated in 1878 from Northern Germany with her parents arriving in Galveston, Texas then moving on to Brenham, Texas.[294] After her mother's death and when Katrina was about 16, the family moved to Cameron, Texas where they could all find work.

> "Her father and brother worked in a farm or in the blacksmith shop. Her little sister, Annie, went to work for Dr. and Mrs. Powell where she worked, but lived like a daughter, until she married and moved away. Katrina worked for a while in the Hefley home, but she soon went to work in the home of Henry Knipp, a forty-three-year-old widower with three small children. Two years later, Henry and Katrina married and had five children of their own.[294]"

Also lore: At one point during the marriage of she and Heinrich Knipp (108), he raised his hand to beat her, and she reached behind her and picked up the poker. On his deathbed, he is supposed to have said, “Whatever you do, don’t let her hit me with the poker”.[291] She appeared on the census of 1910 at 100 Buckhalts Road in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA. Living with her were children Otto, Henrietta, Earnest, and Fred; her father Henry Hebler; Matilda Myer; and Gordon Lankford. Spelling in census forms is usually poor, so Matilda may be a niece of Henry's first wife.[295]

Heinrich KNIPP (108) was born on 17 September 1842 in Niederdielfen, Wilnsdorf, Prussia, Germany. He married Amelia Meyer (1377) on 1 March 1875 in Milam, Texas, USA.[287] He died on 28 October 1904 in Milam, Texas, USA, at age 62.[289] He was buried at the Cameron Pioneer Cemetery in Cameron, Milam, Texas, USA.[290] He was also known as Henry (108). He emigrated in 1868 to New York City, New York, USA, on the steamer Bavaria that departed Germany on 2 May 1868.

According to Knipp family lore, he had been in the Prussian Army, struck an officer and needed to leave the country.[283,291] From Louise Robbins Davis' letter:

> A Lutheran pastor was securing passage for a group of immigrants who wished to come to America, and Henry Knipp, whose family was financially able to provide funds for his passage, persuaded his parents to let him join the group. As he suffered at times intensely from the after effects of a shoulder wound inflicted during the Franco-Prussian War, his parents decided that perhaps a change to a milder climate might prove beneficial. So Henry Knipp, whose German relatives and ancestors were made up largely of school teachers and doctors, began his long journey to a pioneer country where teachers and doctors were scarce indeed, but whose descendants were to labor in professions of law, engineering, and teaching for more than half a century.

He arrived in Cameron, Texas in 1869, by way of Chicago where he fished the Great Lakes. He joined a group of men making their way down the Mississippi to New Orleans.

He moved to Rockdale after March 1875, then to Round Rock, Texas where he lost his house to a fire on 7 May 1877.[283,288] Louise Robbins Davis wrote that after his first wife Amelia died very young:

> Through the kindness of neighbors and the help of a housekeeper Henry kept his family together for a year and then he met Kathryn Hibbler, whose family had migrated to America the year before...Kathryn was only seventeen years of age at the time of her marriage to Henry.
>
>
> By training, Henry studied woodcraft... These were early days in Texas, and the only mode of transportation was by heavy wagon train. Only the hardest oak and toughest hickory could take the punishment inflicted by heavy loads on rough, roadless treks across the country.
>
> In those days, horse-shoeing and other blacksmith work were equal in importance to the making of wagon wheels and wagon beds, and the first shop of its kind operated in Cameron was that of Knipp and Meyers. (Lou Meyers being a cousin of Amelia.) ...

He had been a carpenter, cabinet maker, wagon maker and worked on the railroad line to Mexico, at times returning infrequently to his family.[288]

From Keith's article:

> "We were in the Alexander School district, but we regularly attended Sunday School and Church at Rock Creek.
> Because of the flu epidemic I was not allowed to start to school in 1918. I can remember Uncle Charlie, who was by this time a well qualified medical doctor, bringing the mail and other necessities and putting them out at the gate. My parents conversed with him at a distance, and we escaped the flu that year. The next year we all had the flu. I remember how sick we all were, but we all lived.

> I started to school in 1919 at Alexander in the second grade. I had no problems in missing the first grade, for my mother had seen to it that I was well taught.
>
> In 1921 my mother was hired to teach the Alexander School.
>
> In December 1924 our parents moved to Canyon where we children might be able to get an education. With that move my happy and innocent childhood ended. I was thrust into a completely new and different world. I graduated from Canyon High School in 1929 and immediately started to college. I had been editor of the high school paper the last two years, and my love was languages and journalism. Knowing there was not going to be any way I could finance 4 years of college in those depression years, I was advised to major in primary education and get a permanent certificate to teach school. In 1931 I went to the Johnson School in the Bauer community to teach....
> When I came there to teach, he [Clarence (39)] lost no time in getting to know the new teacher, and we were soon dating. We were married in my parents' home on November 11, 1932 by the Reverend John R. Sharp, the same minister who had married my parents."

The college at the time was West Texas State Teachers College. (Note: The name started as West Texas Normal College in 1909, was changed to West Texas State Teachers College (1923–1949), West Texas State College (1949–1963), West Texas State University (1963–1990), and in 1990 to West Texas A&M, part of the Texas A&M University System.).[164] From Keith's article

> For the next 8 years we lived on a section of land belonging to Grandpa Bauer....
> We were looking for land where we could irrigate and have a home of our own. Our search brought us to Swisher County. We purchased land, did extensive work on the house, and moved on November 2, 1940....Those were such happy years for us marred only by the sadness of World War II. There are no happier years than those when your children are growing up and lifelong friendships are formed. In 1947 we moved into our first new home....We sold the farm to D. S. Burelsmith in 1955 and moved into Tulia where we built another new home.
> The day after [Vance's] graduation we came to Bentonville, Arkansas and bought the property... It may never again be my privilege to live in Texas. Arkansas has been good to us, we love it here. I was born a Texan, and I will die a Texan! My heart remains in Swisher Co., for there I spent the happiest years of my life.[164]

Pope (2251), on 14 May 1873.[343] He died on 10 June 1899 at Roosevelt Hospital in New York City, New York, USA.[344] He was buried on 14 June 1899 at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York, USA.[344]

He worked in real estate, the liquor business and was a lawyer. He sued his uncle Frederick, helped his wife sue her mother, and was accused by his cousin Herman of running a "dive" in New York.

Caroline Christiana ROPKE (2242) was born in 1853 in Brooklyn, Kings, New York, USA.[345] She died in 1902. She was buried at the Green-Wood Cemetery in Brooklyn, New York, USA.[345] Caroline married Henry Siefke (2244) the nephew of Frederick (2075) and a cousin of Herman (133).

Caroline Siefke was accused of attempting to poison her mother Mrs. Pope and her brother John P. Ropke. (Things are a bit confusing because both Caroline and her mother were married multiple times.) On 31 August 1878, she prepared a "Pot Cheese" and had a young man John Blankmeyer, 13, deliver it to her mother's house, claiming it was prepared by Mrs. Cook, a maid of Mrs. Ropke, who often sent gifts delivered by her son. Mrs. Siefke told John to tell her mother that Mrs. Cook's son was ill and could not deliver it himself like usual. She promised him 10 cents to deliver the package and another 15 cents after it was done. She was gone when he returned. He later identified her in court.[346]

Caroline was no stranger to the court system. She was not on good terms with her mother because she had an ongoing suit against her, filed by her husband Henry, to get more out of an inheritance. It's not clear how that suit came out.

Her mother, too, was the finagling kind. She married Mr. Pope, then she, the new Mrs. Pope, had him sign over the property he owned at marriage so they could take out a loan on it, then promptly divorced him leaving him destitute.[347] Caroline sued her husband's cousin Herman for slander. There is no indication how this was settled.[348] On 11 December 1896 Caroline allegedly surprised a burglar in the hallway of her home who, by her son's description, "…squirted some kind of liquid into her face with a bulb, which he held in his hand. Then he tore her diamond earrings from her ears, and a gold breast pin from the neck of her dress. My mother fell screaming to the floor. The man ran downstairs and dashed out the front door." Although Caroline was sure it was carbolic acid, when reporters arrived she refused to see them because "she was too much prostrated." Henry, by then having left the liquor business and become a real estate agent, was tending to a sick horse in the basement and was unaware of the incident. Caroline apparently recovered fully and there was no mention whether an insurance policy was involved.[349]

After her husband Henry, then an alderman, died, Caroline sued her son Henry to get more out of the estate than Henry the elder had included in his will. The will cut off her future income from the estate significantly should she remarry, and the court removed that clause, giving her one-third of the estate with the rest going to her son and his descendants.[350]

The two known children of Henry Siefke (2241) and Caroline Christiana Ropke (2242) were as follows:

i. Anna Elizabeth SIEFKE (2243) was born circa October 1867. She died on 8 September 1868. She was buried on 10 September 1868.

First Lieutenant Howard Carey BREWSTER (53) was born on 13 April 1918 in Ruston, Lincoln Parish, Louisiana, USA.[217] He married Kate Eileen Donnell (38), daughter of Lemuel Alexander Donnell (3895) and Henrietta Marion Knipp (3896), on 6 February 1943 at First Presbyterian Church in Warrensburg, Missouri, USA. He died in combat on 6 June 1944 at Lanquetot, Le Vrétot, Bricquebec, Normandy, France, at age 26.[218] He was first buried in the St. James temporary cemetery then moved to Plot D, Row 22, Grave 36 of the Normandy American Cemetery and Memorial in St Laurent-Colleville, France.

First Lieutenant Howard Carey Brewster (53) received his degree from Louisiana Technical College in 1941.[217] On 6 January 1941, he enlisted in the National Guard and became a Sergeant in the Coast Artillery Corps.[219] He was awarded his wings in 1942 after basic pilot training in San Antonio, Texas. He moved to Dalhart, Texas for glider pilot training where he met Kate, who was teaching Home Economics at the Dalhart High School.[216] First Lieutenant Howard Carey Brewster (53) and Kate Eileen Donnell (38) were moved from base to base - from Sedalia, Missouri to Fort Wayne, Indiana, back to Sedalia, then to Fort Pope, North Carolina, then back to Fort Wayne. Kate is quoted as "We had our clothes, a few pots and pans, and our youth. So moving was no chore.[216]" On their first wedding anniversary, he deployed to England and was attached to the 82nd Airborne Division for further training.[216]

First Lieutenant Howard Carey Brewster (53) was a glider pilot with the 437th Troop Carrier Group of the 9th Air Force and was the operations officer for the 84th and 86th Squadrons.

The account of his final mission has been researched at Fold 3 at Ancestry.com and is summarized below:

> On D-Day, June 6, 1944 during Mission Detroit, Mission #28 his CG4 Waco-type glider ... departed Ramsbury, United Kingdom, being towed by C47-A flown by pilots Lt Myers and Lt Frederick.
>
> His co-pilot was Flight Officer Leslie A. Reynolds also of the 84th Troop Carrier Squadron. The passengers were Sgt. Raynor M. Wilson and Pvt. Lecil A Drummond, both of the 80th Anti-aircraft Battalion.
>
> Their mission was to transport a jeep, anti-tank ammunition, and other equipment to Ste-Mère-Eglise, about 5 miles inland from Utah Beach.
>
> In an investigation (Missing Air Crew Report #10890), the tow pilots believed Carey Brewster's glider was either "...released or shot off about 16 miles from the landing zone. This meant that the glider landed in enemy territory with few, if any, friendly troops in the vicinity."
>
> The report also states that the landing glider struck the top of an apple tree at the landing, killing the pilot. The copilot was hospitalized and eventually returned to England with amnesia. The enlisted men were both killed in combat within 10 days of D-Day.[218]

Descendants of Robert Donnell (The Second) (435)

Generation One

283. Robert DONNELL (The Second) (435) was born circa 1728 in Ulster, Ireland.[383] He married Mary Jane Jackson (436) in 1746 in Chester, Pennsylvania, USA. He died in 1771.[383] He was buried at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[384]

He was known by his family and friends as Robin (435). He came to North Carolina from York County, Pennsylvania in 1771. From Rankin:

> "In 1790 the Donnell families had a great reunion, and one of the old men laughingly asked, "What do you suppose has become of the 'O' we cast overboard at sea, by this time?" This would indicate that they all came overseas together, and that the name was O'Donnell in Ireland."

I have not yet found a connection for Robert the Second (435) or James Sr to William McDonnell (393) so it does not appear that we are related. It is very possible that the Donnells that arrived later were the Irish O'Donnells or that MacDonnells who were for several generations in Ireland adopted the "Mc" or the "O' while in Ireland. Some genealogists have linked Robert the Second to an O'Donnell family in Ireland.

Some of Robert the Second's descendants did end up in the vicinity of Austin, Texas so I have included that lineage here.[385]

Mary Jane JACKSON (436) was born in 1730 in Ireland.[386] She died in 1771 in Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[386] She was buried on 5 June 1816 at the Buffalo Presbyterian Church Cemetery in Greensboro, Guilford, North Carolina, USA.[386]

> William Donnell was one of that noble patriot band, who under General Green, at Guilford courthouse in 1781, fought that memorable battle, which so effectually checked the desolating career of Lord Cornwallis. His wife, Mary Bell, was the daughter of Samuel Bell
>
> ...In October 1789 [they] started for the Cumberland country, as Middle Tennessee and Southern Kentucky expecting to join an emigrating party, which it seems was to rendezvous near or at Abington, Va. But being too late to effect this object, they remained in the vicinity of Abington until the following October, when they joined another party, and proceeded to Sumner county, Tennessee. But owing to the hostilities of the Indians, they spent the first year after their arrival, in Captain Bell's Fort, situated about one mile from Smith's Fort, afterward called Hendersonville, on Drake's creek, some 7 or 8 miles from Nashville, on the North side of Cumberland river. Sometime in the next year, (1792) they settled on Spring creek, in the adjoining county of Wilson, not many miles from where Lebanon now stands.[396]

From the source:

> The next settlement, it is thought, was made on the waters of Spring creek, about eight miles south from the site of Lebanon, about the year 1796, by John Foster, John Doak, David McGathey, Alexander Braden, and the Donnell families. It was known as the "Donnell Settlement," they having numerical ascendency. Indeed, there was, and is yet, an extensive relationship of this name, several members bearing the same of several given or Christian names, as William, Thomas and Robert. It was sometimes doubtful as to which individual was meant, even when addressed by the full name. To avoid the confusion prenomens, or nicknames, were conferred by common consent. Thus they had Captain Billy, Poplar Billy, Cedar Billy and Sugar Billy; Long Tommy, Short Tommy, Tiptoe Tommy, Big Robin, Little Robin, and Uncle Robin, with a number of Georges, Johns, James', Samuels, Calvins, Etc. This Family has furnished no less than seven ministers of the gospel.[397]

Hixa Jane Donnell

294. Hixa Jane DONNELL (3194) was born on 21 June 1841 in Lebanon, Wilson, Tennessee, USA.[403] She married Allen B Griffin (3195) on 23 May 1854.[403] She married John Berry Jr (3196), son of John Berry (3197) and Hannah Devore (3198), on 27 June 1858.[403] She died on 8 April 1909 in Bandera, Bandera, Texas, USA, at age 67.[403]

The latter years of her life were tough ones for Hixa Jane and her family. They had very little and were barely making it from day to day. John had fallen from a wagon in 1904 dislocating his hip and was unable to walk without crutches. Their only income was a small pension from John having served in the Confederate Army.

In 1909, John and Jane, accompanied by their son, Emanuel, and his wife, Elizabeth, made a trip to Yancey to visit family. They were traveling by buckboard when suddenly Hixa Jane died near Bandera. She was buried somewhere along the road between Boene and Yancey. The exact location of Hixa Jane's grave is unknown.[403]

There were no known children of Hixa Jane Donnell (3194) and Allen B Griffin (3195).

> "In 1904, John Berry fell from a wagon causing a dislocated hip and resulting rheumatism. From then on, John was unable to walk without crutches.
>
> In 1905 he applied for a pension due Texas veterans who had honorably served in the Confederate Army
>
> He stated that he could not do any work as the result of his fall and his only property was two horses worth $140, one wagon very old and worn worth about $15 two feather beds, a cookstove, and some small kitchen utensils. He said that in 1904 the family harvested five bales of cotton but in 1905 only two bales of cotton. This small crop was their only source of income and Hixa Jane had no property of her own.
>
> The pension was approved although we don't know how much it was. In a letter written to his sister Catherine A. Berry Jackson on October 16, 1915, John said 'Times is tight here; they cut my pension to ten dollars, so I have no money, but am doing alright, I have plenty to eat.'
>
> John would travel from place to place visiting his children in a small black buggy with his crutches on the seat beside him.[404]"
